PhD Scholarships
APPLICATIONS NOW OPEN

Completing an Honours or higher degree in law, humanities or social sciences?

Interested in further study on a transnational crime, corruption or terrorism related topic?

We invite admission and scholarship applications from candidates interested in pursuing research in these areas at doctoral level.

The Centre’s research is organised around a number of themes;

• Transnational and Organised Crime
• Terrorism and Counter-terrorism
• Financial Crime and Money-Laundering
• International Cooperation and Intelligence
• Cybercrime and Cybersecurity
• Integrity and Anti-Corruption

We encourage applications from honours graduates and postgraduates in Humanities, International Studies, Criminology, Social Sciences or Psychology.

Scholarship Closing Date: 17 October 2011

Prospective applicants are encouraged to discuss their proposal with:

PROFESSOR ANDREW GOLDSMITH
Phone: 02 4221 8025   Email: agoldsmi@uow.edu.au

Visit us online: http://ctcp.uow.edu.au

CTCP RESEARCHERS
CTCP Staff come from a variety of backgrounds and academic disciplines, including law, anthropology, criminology, political science, international relations and psychology.

A number of them have previous industry experience or have worked as consultants in their fields of research.

CTCP have close links with a number of state, national and international agencies working on organised crime, corruption and terrorism issues.

CRICOS Provider No.00102E